Redmond is ready – where is Rann?

Isobel Redmond has indicated her support for the legalisation of voluntary euthanasia.

Mike Rann has not responded to our communications and the only conclusion we can draw is that he is opposed.

81% of South Australians want their right to choose voluntary euthanasia enshrined in law. They want dignity through choice.

The 81% want compassionate legislation that will allow them that final option of last resort, if needed, to escape unrelievable and unbearable suffering from a hopeless illness.

The 81% are fed up at the continual denial of the South Australian parliament to enact humane and common sense legislation – 5 Voluntary Euthanasia Bills have failed since 1995.

There are 2 Independent groups standing for the Legislative Council on the legalisation of voluntary euthanasia.

The candidates are:

Jenny Wheaton
Dennis Haynes

Independent – Legalise Voluntary Euthanasia
Independent – Legalise Voluntary Euthanasia

and

Ian Wood
Reverend Dr Craig de Vos

Independent – Christians for Voluntary Euthanasia
Independent – Christians for Voluntary Euthanasia

The 81% are ready, these candidates are ready, Isobel Redmond is ready – where are you Mike Rann?
